Tutoring Experience

Over the past decade, I've had the pleasure of working with students across various international curriculums, particularly focusing on IB Biology and A-Level Biology. My experience has allowed me to help students not only prepare for their exams but also develop a genuine interest in biological sciences.

In addition to working with school-level curricula, I've supported students in understanding more complex biological concepts and preparing for university applications. My personalized approach to tutoring has proven successful, with many of my students excelling in their subjects and pursuing further studies in biology.

I have also worked closely with students on science-based projects, particularly in the areas of genetics and molecular biology. These projects have helped students enhance their research skills and apply their academic knowledge in practical settings, leading to outstanding academic results.
