Tutoring Experience

I've been teaching IB History for the past five years, helping students develop analytical skills and a deep understanding of historical events and themes. My students have consistently achieved top marks in both SL and HL exams. I also assist with Internal Assessments and Extended Essays, ensuring students craft well-researched and critical essays.

In addition to IB History, I've worked with A-Level and IGCSE students, focusing on effective exam strategies and essay writing techniques. My experience spans multiple international curricula, and I am committed to helping students succeed by providing personalized guidance and support.
